

Recommendations from my LinkedIn profile page

<http://pr.linkedin.com/in/miguelbendraobaltazar>

Recommendations

+ Ask for a recommendation

Lecturer

Les Roches School of Hotel Management, Switzerland

3 visible recommendations for this position: Edit

"Miguel was a colleague of mine when I was a lecturer at Les Roches. He was one of the people I always looked forward to working with. I admired his profound knowledge of the field and professionalism. This, combined with his dynamic personality, make him a great colleague and friend." August 12, 2010

1st Dorien Herremans, IT Lecturer, Les Roches International School of Hotel Management

worked directly with Miguel at Les Roches School of Hotel Management, Switzerland

"Miguel is a personable and responsible faculty member. He lectured on a passion area of mine, consumer marketing. I found Miguel to be an excellent colleague and team leader. He worked for us in Switzerland in an international environment, where he led classes with a wide variety of nationalities represented. I recommend him based upon his strong knowledge of marketing, his friendly and open personality, and his strong work ethic." April 10, 2010

1st David Graves, President, Laureate Northern Europe and Hospitality Education, Laureate Education (formerly Sylvan Learning Systems)

managed Miguel indirectly at Les Roches School of Hotel Management, Switzerland

"I am pleased to have the opportunity to recommend Miguel Baltazar. I have known Miguel since his days as a graduate student at Cornell University.

First, Miguel has the potential to be an excellent researcher. Although he has only recently earned his doctorate, Miguel is already striving to build a publication record.

Second, while research and publications are a large part of the scholarly work of academics, teaching is also a critical component. Once again, Miguel has demonstrated superior command of this facet of academia, as evidenced by high teaching evaluations and comments from students.

Finally, I would like to address Miguel's collegiality, as the "fit" of colleagues is crucial to the well-being of the department. I believe Miguel would make an excellent addition to any organization. Miguel is viewed as a generous and helpful colleague. I have also been impressed by Miguel's enthusiasm and zest for life. Having him around is definitely a breath of fresh air." February 22, 2010

1st Judy Siguaw, Professor of Marketing, Cornell University

managed Miguel indirectly at Les Roches School of Hotel Management, Switzerland